

I Salute You Christopher

IAMX

I salute you, Christopher
I salute your life
How you play the dice Your words will live in us
Timelessly insane
Explosive, fresh, and wise Some will just forget
Some will close their eyes
Some will turn the tide
I salute you, Christopher
Whiskey-raised and downed
You risked, and you took the crown Console yourselves
That a scientific death is better than a fairytale
Of the eternal life Control yourselves
'cause the Man in the Sky is a tyrant and a lonely psychopath
Dreameed up to steal your minds A horseman on a track
A brilliant gentle wreck
With a brittle mouth the price No submit, no compromise
Saint Christopher, all the truths
And the destroyer of soulstrings and threats
They will learn to see in time
They will think before they refuse
The civilization road I salute you, Christopher
I declare you as our King
Or Queen, depending on your mood
