

The Raven That Refused to Sing

Steven Wilson

Sing for me,
Sing for me.
You can come with me;
You can live with me.Heal my soul,
Make me whole.Sister, I lost you,
When you were still a child,
But I need you now,
And I need our former life.I'm afraid to wake,
I'm afraid to love.
Just because I'm weak,
You can steal my dreams:
You can reach inside my head,
You can put your song there instead.Please, come to me.
Please, stay with me.Please,
Sing,
Cry,
Cry.Sing to me, raven,
I miss her so much.
Sing to me, Lily,
I miss you so much.Sing to me, raven,
I miss her so much.
Sing to me, Lily,
I miss you so much.
Sing to me, raven,
I miss her so much.
Sing to me, Lily,
I miss you so much.
