

The Ghost That's Haunting You

Trivium

Ghosts surrounding me, they're taking shape
Awake and see them standing there What the hell (what the hell you supposed to do)
Are you supposed to do (when the whole world is after you)
When your world (what the hell you supposed to do)
Is coming after you (when the whole world is after you) What have I done, what have I become
Standing six feet deep, am I the only one Save, save yourself
It's killing me to have to say
You know this is the only way
Save, save yourself
There's nothing left to say or do
You know I'll be the ghost that's haunting you
Apparition, read me my last rights
Carry me into the grave
Quaint What the hell (what the hell you supposed to do)
Are you supposed to do (when the whole world is after you)
When your world (what the hell you supposed to do)
Is coming after you (when the whole world is after you) What have I done, what have I become
Standing six feet deep, am I the only one Save, save yourself
It's killing me to have to say
You know this is the only way
Save, save yourself
There's nothing left to say or do
You know I'll be the ghost that's haunting you (the ghost that's haunting you)
Save, save yourself
It's killing me to have to say
You know this is the only way
Save, save yourself
There's nothing left to say or do
You know I'll be the ghost that's haunting you
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>