The Ghost That's Haunting You

Trivium

Ghosts surrounding me, they're taking shape

Awake and see them standing thereWhat the hell (what the hell you supposed to do)

Are you supposed to do (when the whole world is after you)

When your world (what the hell you supposed to do)

Is coming after you (when the whole world is after you)What have I done, what have I become Standing six feet deep, am I the only oneSave, save yourself

It's killing me to have to say

You know this is the only way

Save, save yourself

There's nothing left to say or do

You know I'll be the ghost that's haunting you

Apparition, read me my last rights

Carry me into the grave

QuaintWhat the hell (what the hell you supposed to do)

Are you supposed to do (when the whole world is after you)

When your world (what the hell you supposed to do)

Is coming after you (when the whole world is after you) What have I done, what have I become

Standing six feet deep, am I the only oneSave, save yourself

It's killing me to have to say

You know this is the only way

Save, save yourself

There's nothing left to say or do

You know I'll be the ghost that's haunting you(the ghost that's haunting you)

Save, save yourself

It's killing me to have to say

You know this is the only way

Save, save yourself

There's nothing left to say or do

You know I'll be the ghost that's haunting you

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/