

David

Passenger

i met him outside a hostel door he said i'll tell you mine if you tell me yours i know you think its shifty for a man in his fifties to be sleeping in a hostel dorm but i used to be a welder by trade used to work by the water where the ships get made but no ship yard will take me now my hands are too shaky now and i've spent all my money before i get paid well i said david don't you think its strange, while you were sleeping how the world went and changed looking in your eyes i think you know david we lost you
we lost you a long time ago he leans his head against a hostel wall said i've an ex wife that doesn't hear me and a kid that doesn't call and every month i'm caught short with my sodding child support and the court says that i'm reckless and irresponsible see it was never part of the plan, to be a middle aged man to be sat outside a hostel shaking strangers hands but i've drunk away my wealth and I'm a picture of bad health and i'm a shadow of a shadow of a former self and i said david don't you think its strange, while you were walking how the world went and changed i hear it in your voice i think you know
david we lost you
we lost you a long time ago
well i said david don't you think its strange, while you were in your dark room how the world went and changed looking in your eyes i think you know
david we lost you
we lost you a long time ago

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>