

When the World Stops Turning

Chris Malinchak

the sun in my eyes
as soon as i step out the door
i know i felt all this before, before and the beat of my heart
it keeps telling me i gotta go but i just keeping coming back for more, for more...what do we do when the world stops turning?
and i've learned enough, all the lessons i'm learning
either love me or hate me
please just give me something
to feel alive...
to feel alive...and I'm fooling myself trying to turn water to wine why can't i leave all this behind, behind
i put my heart on a shelf
it seems like i stay here a while and it's the only time you'll see me smile
what do we do when the world stops turning?
and i've learned enough, all the lessons i'm learning
either love me or hate me
please just give me something
to feel alive...
to feel alive...every beat of my heart... oh...
turning...
keeps turning...
keeps turning...
keeps turning...
keeps turning...
keeps turning...
keeps turning...
keeps turning...ooooooooh
ooooooooh
ooooooooh
what do we do when the world stops turning?
and i've learned enough, all the lessons i'm learning
either love me or hate me
please just give me something
to feel alive...
to feel alive...and i keep coming back...
and i keep coming back...
