Heart of Stone

IKO

Can you keep a secret? Will it hold your hand Among the flames? Honey, you're a shipwreck With your heart of stoneCan I get a witness To the bruises and The wasted tears You could dry a river With your heart of stone With your heart of stone I can breathe I can breathe water, water I can breathe I can breathe water, waterWhen you're here with me You're not here with meCan I pry your finger From everything I I say and do And I just can't forget you And your heart of stone I can breathe I can breathe water, water I can breathe I can breathe water, water I can breathe I can breathe water, water I can breathe I can breathe waterWhen you're here with me You're not here with me
