

Beautiful Disaster

Jon McLaughlin

She loves her momma's lemonade hates the sound that goodbyes make she prays one day she'll find someone to need her.
She swears there's no differences between the lies and compliments it's all the same if everybody leaves her.
In every magazine, tells that she is not good enough
the pictures that she sees makes her cry.
She would change everything
everything
Just ask her...

Cought in the in between a beautiful disaster
she just needs someone to take her home.
She's giving boys what they want trying to act so nonchalant afraid to see that she's lost her direction.
She never stays the same for long assuming that she'll get it wrong perfect only in her imperfection.
She is not a drama queen
she doesn't wanna feel this way only seventeen and tired... yeah.
She would change everything
for happy ever after.

Cought in the in between a beautiful disaster
she just needs someone to take her home.
'Cause she is just the way she is but no one's told her that's okay.
She would change everything
everything...
just ask her.

Cought in the in between a beautiful disaster.
She would change everything for happy ever after
cought in the in between a beautiful disaster
she just needs someone to take her home
she just needs someone to take her home...
