Dragonfly

Ziggy Marley

"everybody's worried about time but i just keep that shit off my mind people living on twenty four hour clocks but we're on a ride that never stopshey mister bee the world change but you remain the same and i wonder how you'll survive with the environment going down the drain hey miss dragonfly i see you look at me with your beautiful eyes you must be wondering what type of creature am ia dog looked at me and said ziggy why can't we trust man puss and me get together why can't you all just understand an old tree stood there silently listening to every word we said as a tear fell he cried what type of creature is man i said hey mister tree the world change but you remain the same and i wonder how you survive with the environment going down the drain hey miss butterfly I see you look at me with your beautiful eyes you must be wondering what kind of creature am i you must be wondering what kind of creature am ieverybody's worried about time but i just keep that shit off my mind people living on twenty four hour clocks but we're on a ride yes we're on a ride we're on a ride that never stops hey mister bee the world change but you remain the same and i hope you'll survive with the environment going down the drain hey miss butterfly i see you look at me with your beautiful eyes vou must be wondering what type of creature am i you must be wondering what type of creature is man"

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/