

Doublewide

Corrosion of Conformity

New, the sky is clear, you reappear
And I lost my way a million to one and you come around when the day is done And I wonder which one knows?
And I wonder which one goes?
I'm doublewide. I'm doublewide And I don't have a reason, something's gone wrong
And I still don't remember, I been here too long
Gonna lose my way behind the sun
Then I'll come around when the day is done And I wonder which one knows?
And I wonder which one goes?
I'm doublewide. I'm doublewide Over time, on judgement day, overdrawn passion play
If I die before I wake, I think I got an even break
I'm doublewide...
