

Secret Fear

Daniel Bedingfield

I have a secret fear
That I will love you still.
Maybe all my life.
There are no secrets here
Maybe I love you still.
Maybe all my life. I fear that when I lie
Beside the woman I will call my wife
Then I will hear your voice,
Your heart will call to me
Maybe all my life.
All my life
All my life.
Dark flame of mine
Light of the morning.
Dark flame of mine
How do I, how do I,
How do I know?
Dark flame of mine
No destination.
Dark flame of mine
How do I, how do I,
How do I get over you? A splinter in the mind
Imagination or a lonely heart.
Am I the victim of manipulation or
The woman part?
And when my dying day reaches my open arms
I know I'll find
It will contain my fear
It will assuage the torture of my mind
Of my mind
In my mind. Dark flame of mine
Light of the morning.
Dark flame of mine
How do I, how do I,
How do I know?
Dark flame of mine
No destination.
Dark flame of mine
How do I, how do I,
How do I get over you? I can't eat without you, baby.
I can't dream without your love.
I can't eat without you, baby.

I can't swim without your love.
I can't see without you, baby.
I can't live without your love.
I can't sleep without you, baby.
I can't breathe without your love.
I can't be without you, baby.
I can't swim without your love.

I can't eat without you, baby. Dark flame of mine
Light of the morning.
Dark flame of mine
How do I, how do I,
How do I know?
Dark flame of mine
No destination.
Dark flame of mine
How do I, how do I,
How do I know?
Dark flame of mine
Light of the morning.
Dark flame of mine
How do I, how do I,
How do I get over you?
