

Just My Soul Responding

Amber Run

Oh, and I wanna be here when morning comes when the stars in the sky fade into one Oh, and I wanna be here when times are hard
When the beating of your heart is like a drum But every day I found new ways to hurt you, but every day we took our signs And it's just my soul responding to the heavy heart I'm holding And it's just my soul responding to the love you took from me Oh, and I wanna be here when morning comes
When the stars in the sky fade into one
Oh, and I wanna be here when times are hard
every day we took our signs
And it's just my soul responding to the heavy heart I'm holding
And it's just my soul responding to the love, to the love, you took from me
And it's just my soul responding to the heavy heart I'm holding
And it's just my soul responding to the love, to the love, you took from me
And it's just my soul responding to the heavy heart I'm holding
And it's just my soul responding to the love, to the love, you took from me
