Tongue-Tied

Mia Doi Todd

Looking for a window into your soul.

If and when I find it, will the blinds be closed? I drag me up the drainpipe,

Leap for the fire ladder.

Seventeen stories,

And I'm still climbing higher.Looking for a window into your soul. If and when I find it, will the blinds be closed?I went to Samy's Camera To buy binoculars,

Took home a tall telescope Ten thousand times power.

Looking for a window into your soul.

If and when I find it, will the blinds be closed? I set up on a rooftop

Just across the way.

In the summer, sweat poured.

In the winter, it was rain.Looking for a window into your soul.

If and when I find it, will the blinds be closed?

Looking for a window into your heart.

If and when I find it, will the insides be dark?

Looking for a window into your mind.

If and when I find it, will we both be tongue-tied?
