Oh My God (feat. Lily Allen)

Mark Ronson

Time on your side that will never end
The most beautiful thing you can ever spend
But you work in a shirt with your name tag on it
Drifting apart like a plate techtonicIt don't matter to me

Cos all I wanted to be Is a million miles from here

Somewhere more familiarToo much time spent dragging the past up

I didn't see you not looking when I messed up

Settling down in your early twentie's

Suck more blood then a back street dentistIt don't matter to me

Cos all I wanted to be

Is a million miles from here

Somewhere more familiar

And oh my god, I can't believe it

I've never been this faraway from home

And oh my god, I can't believe it

I've never been this faraway from home

And oh my god, I can't believe it

I've never been this faraway from home

And oh my god, I can't believe it

I've never been this faraway from homeGreat ruins make for a greater glory

The only thing growing is our history

Knock me down I'll get right back up again

Come back stronger then a powered up PacmanIt don't matter to me

Cos all I wanted to be

Is a million miles from here

Somewhere more familiar

And oh my god, I can't believe it

I've never been this faraway from home

And oh my god, I can't believe it

I've never been this faraway from home

And oh my god, I can't believe it

I've never been this faraway from home

And oh my god, I can't believe it

I've never been this faraway from homeAnd oh my god, I can't believe it

I've never been this faraway from home

And oh my god, I can't believe it

I've never been this faraway from home

And oh my god, I can't believe it

I've never been this faraway from home

And oh my god, I can't believe it

I've never been this faraway from...
