

To Carry the Load

Crowbar

Under that smile, behind those eyes I see it all Your words breed lies, you cry for sympathy Sometimes the truth unleashes more than you can take Lost world, lost hope, lost vision, killing you Don't kill before it grows Throughout this all, you've learned a lot from me still it grows
That weight you bear is destined to crush your everything Through time through pain my yearning has never ever wanned
Be strong, believe, the beauty it lies within your dreams
