

restless soul

Flor

When you're alone, do you feel the sadness?
It finds a way to sneak inside and cloud my vision
It takes its toll, it gives me to the darkness
And it's hard to keep my light from burning out Oh don't you tire your restless soul
You're running, you're running, oh
In place, you're going nowhere fast, you know Come and lay down your restless soul
You're wearing, you're wearing out
No currents coming from your restless soul
I'm sure you know, I've been looking for answers
But I've been searching in the lost and quiet places
Oh, and you know I'm never going to find truth
When I'm asking in a crowd of foreign faces Oh don't you tire your restless soul
You're running, you're running, oh
In place, you're going nowhere fast, you know Come and lay down your restless soul
You're wearing, you're wearing out
No currents coming from your restless soul
Oh don't you tire your restless soul
You're running, you're running, oh
In place, you're going nowhere fast, you know Come and lay down your restless soul
You're wearing, you're wearing out
No currents coming from your restless soul
