

Three Chords and a Half Truth

Face to Face

Everything I'm telling you is a lie
Everything I'm telling you is a lie
Started off with a water dive and I knew you wouldn't dive
Can't remember what it was I was lying about Think it result in my happiness, we'll be better than that so I'm high
You was often down my road and I never looked down Yet you find yourself, it's not your fault
You picked me for a fool With empty heads and empty hands,
Nobody gets to choose
Still might be an answer here,
To look in for a different kind of truth Everything I'm telling you is a lie
Everything I'm telling you is a lie
Started off with a water dive and I knew you wouldn't dive Can't remember what it was I was lying about Take me out my way, I told you what's going on out here
If I look for a while I'll see that nothing's fair
Everything I'm telling you is a lie
