Halsey

Well who am I? I'm almost 25 Can't remember half the time that I've been alive 'Cause half was in a cheap apartment And half was on the EastsideThey said don't, "Don't meet your heroes They're all fucking weirdos" And God knows that they were right Because nobody loves you, they just try to fuck you Then put you a feature on the B-side And who do you call when it's late at night When the headlines just don't paint the picture right When you look at yourself on a screen and say "Oh my God, there's no way that's me" And I, I quit smoking, well recently I tried And I bought another house and I never go outside And I remember this girl with pink hair in Detroit What she told me

She said, "Ashley you gotta promise us that you won't die 'Cause we need you" and honestly I think that she lied And I remember the names of every single kid I've met Sthe people who I've gotten in bod And I've stared at the sky.

But I forget half the people who I've gotten in bedAnd I've stared at the sky in Milwaukee And hoped that my father would finally call me

And it's just these things that I'm thinking for hours

And I'm picking my hair out in clumps in the shower

I lost the love of my life to an ivory powder

But then I realise that I'm no higher power

That I wasn't in love then and I'm still not now

And I'm so happy I figured that out

I've got a long way to go until self-preservation

Think my moral compass is on a vacation

And I can't believe I still feed my fucking temptation

And I'm still looking for my salvationSoft and slow, watch the minutes go

Count out loud so we know you don't keep 'em for yourself

Watch the minutes go

Count out loud so we know you don't keep 'em for yourself

So we know you don't Soft and slow, watch the minutes go

Count out loud so we know you don't keep 'em for yourself
