Hung, Drawn and Quartered

High On Fire

The candle has burnt through, the wax that once covered my eyes

The Pharisees told you, but you knew of the black serpent lies

Come all ye losers, don't you know you're the children of life

Follow me now and we'll burn down the pillars of timeThe evil has come and the darkness will cover the light

Above the legions, who will slay the poor and the blind Warriors that follow, won't you read the sign and the time Stand now in battle and we'll crush the clan and their kind Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.
