I'll Believe In Anything

Wolf Parade

Give me your eyes, I need sunshine
Give me your eyes, I need sunshine
Your blood, your bones, your voice, and your ghostWe've both been very brave
Walk around with both legs

Fight the scary day

We both pulled the tricks out of our sleeves, but I'll believe in anything and you'll believe in anything

Said I'll believe in anything and you'll believe in anythingIf I could get the fire out from the wire

I'd share a life and you'd share a life

If I could take the fire out from the wire

I'd share a life and you'd share a life

If I could take the fire out from the wire

I'd take you where nobody knows you and

Nobody gives a damn

I said nobody knows you and

Nobody gives a damnAnd I could take another hit for you

And I could take away your trips from you

And I could take away the salt from your eyes

Take away what's been assaulting you

And I could give you my apologies

By handing over all the olive trees

And I could take away your shaky knees

And I could give you all the olive trees

And look at the trees and look at my face and look at a place far away from hereSo give me your eyes, I need sunshine

Give me your eyes, I need sunshine

Your blood, your bones, your voice, and your ghost

We've both been very brave

Walk around with both legs

Fight the scary day

We both pulled the tricks right out of our sleeves

But I'll believe in anything and you'll believe in anything

If I could take the fire out from the wire

I'd share a life and you'd share a life

If I could take the fire out from the wire

I'd share a life and you'd share a life

If I could take the fire out from the wire

I'd take you where nobody knows you and

Nobody gives a damn

I said nobody knows you

And nobody gives a damnI said nobody knows you

And nobody gives a damn either way

About your blood, your bones, your voice, and your ghost
Because nobody knows you
And nobody gives a damn either way
You know I'll believe in anything and you'll believe in anything
Because nobody knows you
And nobody gives a damn either way
