

Born into the Sunset

Temples

I was born
I was thrown into the sunset
You were there
And a outside a sleepy window array
I was tossed
In towards of happy Sundays
By the fair
Memories fade into the weekend awayEvery night
I will work until the sun's up
In disguise
Of a silent, sleepy window array
Carousel
Spin me around until I'm seasick
I was born
I was born into the sunset today
Sunset today
Be as it may
Don't let anyone tell you
On and on, it's true
You sit on your chances and see
That the world doesn't end at your feetBe as it may
Only knowing is needing
On a open sea
You lay on the surface and breathe
And you feel the eruption, I'm freeParadise
Married us into the sunset
Mellow cries
Amplified until the sound's red alert
I was drawn
In the webs of the surroundings
I was born
I was born into the sunset today
Sunset today
Born of the night
Born of the night
Measuring miles
Everyone smilesBe as it may
Don't let anyone tell you
On and on, it's true
You sit on your chances and see
That the world doesn't end at your feetBe as it may
Only knowing is needing

On a open sea
You lay on the surface and breathe
And you feel the eruption, I'm free

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>