

So Good

Louisa Johnson

I said about five minutes away
One more stop and I will be off this train
I'm free any day of the week
Always losing some sleep I told myself I'll be back by ten
Trying save myself for the weekend
But I know me, I hate to miss a party Don't say, don't say I didn't warn you
Don't say I didn't warn you
I live for the moment I wasn't supposed to go out tonight
I should be at home
I got work at 9
Shouldn't be out here doing what I like
But it feels so good, so good
I was only gonna be an hour or two
I guess that now I'm here I'm going down with you
But it feels so good, so good Angel on my shoulder is giving up on me
No listening to him and I can hardly speak
The music they play makes me this way I think it was only 10
How did it get to 3
It's like I'm in my own time machine
But you know me, I never leave Don't say, don't say I didn't warn you
Don't say I didn't warn you
Just live for the moment I wasn't supposed to go out tonight
I should be at home
I got work at 9
Shouldn't be out here doing what I like
But it feels so good, so good
I was only gonna be an hour or two
I guess that now I'm here I'm going down with you
But it feels so good, so good I wasn't supposed to go out tonight
I should be at home
I got work at 9
Shouldn't be out here doing what I like
But it feels so good, so good I was only gonna be an hour or two
I guess that now I'm here I'm going down with you
But it feels so good, so good
