

Destroyer of Bloodlines

Communic

It feels like I'm locked up
In this dark room behind bars
Where my mind is the cell
And this heart piece of me went missing
A shock that left me in the dark Can I allow myself to have these feelings
Bringing me into temptation
Pin down the reality
I need to toss this blame I have in my head All my future years already planned
There was made no room for mistakes
Even if the devil wants to lead me
Into a deeper state of doubt
Am I the destroyer of my bloodline?
Am I the destruction to my own life?
Am I the butcher of my future?
Am I the downfall of my heritage? Am I the destroyer of my bloodline?
Am I the destruction to my own life?
Am I the butcher of my future?
Am I the downfall of my heritage? This flesh I can't replace
But our soul may reunite In a parallel world as travellers
Still I sense, this presence visiting me
A piece of me lost in a twirl of misery While a serpent
Still tries to tell me that I failed
Leaving me in a wasteland of desolation
How could I let this life slip through my hands?
All my future years already planned
There was made no room for mistakes
Even if the devil wants to lead me
Into a deeper state of doubt Am I the destroyer of my bloodline?
Am I the destruction to my own life?
Am I the butcher of my future?
Am I the downfall of my heritage? Am I the destroyer of my bloodline?
Am I the destruction to my own life?
Am I the butcher of my future?
I am the downfall of my heritage I am drifting
Into a deeper state of doubt I am
The destroyer of my bloodline
