Lovers End

The Birthday Massacre

Hands cover whispers of the lovers' fright
Fear-cloaked renditions of that autumn night
Digging up rumours of the kids in the park
What awful things happened in the dark?Take, just one last dare

Pretend you don't care

Till twilight falls

Wait, is someone else here?

And I can't stop my tears

I've never been so scared

In the cellar buried 6 feet deep

The lover's shaken from a dreamless sleep Nails clawing splinters from the ceiling and floor

Shrieking like the witches til his stitches are soreTake, just one last dare

Pretend you don't care

Till twilight falls

Wait, is someone else here?

And I can't stop my tears

I've never been so scaredCalling for the other, searching for her lover Secrets she discovers drain her face of color1. 2. 3. 4 Underneath the cellar floor
