

Jack Daniel's & Jesus

Chase Rice

Lately I've been trading a good sermon and some prayin'
For a stranger in my bed and a night that needs explainin'
I've opened more bottles than I ever have my bible
This dirt road communion sure won't lead me to revival
Between the black label and the letters in red
I've felt what livin' is and what it's like to live dead I've taken a ride in the devil's Cadillac
I've been so high thought I wasn't comin' back
And just when I think I'm too far-gone
A ringin' in my head's the 23rd psalm
I've seen the light, I've seen the darkness
Only God knows where my heart is
I've got my strength, and Lord knows I've got my weakness
Oh, I'm lost somewhere between Jack Daniel's and Jesus
It's my fault that I ain't called my momma in a month on Sundays
She'd smell the whiskey through that phone
I can't stand to hear her heart break
Next week I see my brother Casey for the first time Since it all went down and I blacked his eye the night after our daddy died I've taken a ride in the devil's Cadillac
I've been so high thought I wasn't comin' back
And just when I think I'm too far-gone
A ringin' in my head's the 23rd psalm
I've seen the light, I've seen the darkness
Only God knows where my heart is
I've got my strength, and Lord knows I've got my weakness
Oh, I'm lost somewhere between Jack Daniel's and Jesus I ain't afraid to admit I've hit rock bottom
If you wanna see a lifetime full of sins
Just look at me, I've got 'em
I've taken a ride in the devil's Cadillac
I've been so high thought I wasn't comin' back
And just when I think I'm too far-gone
A ringin' in my head's the 23rd psalm
I've seen the light, I've seen the darkness
Only God knows where my heart is
I've got my strength, and Lord knows I've got my weakness
Oh, I'm lost somewhere between Jack Daniel's and Jesus
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>

