

Orchids

Stone Sour

You hold me inside your iris like a terminal stain on life you condescend to my primal brain and twist me around like a knife
Can't begin to explain

The feelings I have restrained

Don't ask me how I am

Because you're too busy planning your epitaph

Let me tell you DON'T - try to be the ONE - person

Who has STAYED - just to say

They never left me!

Aggravated, complicated, someone say it

God, I never learn
You keep me hidden behind a curtain, an audible human display

You feed me orchids to give me courage and keep me in line with disdain

Can't begin to explain

The feelings I have restrained

Don't ask me how I am

Because you're too busy planning your epitaph

Let me tell you DON'T - try to be the ONE - person

Who has STAYED - just to say

They never left me!

Aggravated, complicated, someone say it

God, I never learn
I have nothing left for you

you left me with nothing

I have nothing left for you

you left me with NOTHING!
I live at arm's length and die a little,
between your constants by day

I want my soul back before it's over,

I can't even wish you away

Can't begin to explain

The feelings I have restrained

Don't ask me how I am

Because you're too busy planning your epitaph

Let me tell you DON'T - try to be the ONE - person

Who has STAYED - just to say

They never left me!

Aggravated, complicated, someone say it

God, I never learn
I NEVER LEARN!

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>

