

Sensitive Subject Matter

Bonnie McKee

I told you I would be there for you a promise I intend to keep but the subject matter hits a little too close to home and now I can't take back what I gave A lot of times we've seen the states that we've been in you always save me from my troubled self it seemed but now I'm hearing all these words you say and I'm not sure if I can stay and listen to you melting all my dreams Baby it's you
that kept my feet on the ground thought that I could choose if I always wanted you around Darling I do
think we need time apart
I still need time to mend my broken seams I told you I would listen to you So I'm all ears
But don't ask me to respond to your pleas for my advice cause now I'm too burden to speak Baby it's you
that kept my feet on the ground
thought that I could choose
if I always wanted you around
Darling I do
think we need time apart
I think the time has come for me to go I can't be by myself but there is no one else and well it hurts to know someone else tastes your lips but I cannot forget how hard I cried when I discovered you had lied when you said I could never hurt like this Baby it's you
that kept my feet on the ground I thought that I could choose
if I always wanted you around Darling and I think that we need time apart and I think the time has come for me to go Cause I'm weary, I'm so weary I told you I'd be there I'm broken, I'm so broken but I'm here

It's painful, It's so painful I told you I'd release our secrets I cannot afford to hear Oh, these secrets I cannot afford to hear, no no

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>