Better Days

Graham Nash

When your love has moved away You must face yourself and you must say I remember better days Don't you cry 'cause she is gone She is only moving on Chasing mirrors through a hazeNow that you know it's nowhere What's to stop you coming home All you got to do is go there Then you'll really realize what's going downYou went to a strange land searching For a truth you felt was wrong That's when the heartaches started Though you're where you want to be, you're not where you belong When your love has moved away You must face yourself and you must say I remember better days Don't you cry 'cause she is gone She is only moving on Chasing mirrors through a haze Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/