

White Noise

The Living End

All that I'm hearing from you
Is White Noise (white noise)
White Noise (white noise)
All that I'm hearing from you
Is White Noise (white noise)
White Noise (white noise) If looks could kill
I'd be in trouble by now
Time stands still
When you're around I gave you all my time
You gave me all your lies
For you just come around
To say goodbye
Now here we stand
With our hearts in our hands
Squeezing out the lies
All that I hear
Is a message, unclear
What else is there to decide? All that I'm hearing from you
Is White Noise (white noise)
White Noise (white noise)
All that I'm hearing from you
Is White Noise (white noise)
White Noise (white noise)
White Noise.... You promised me your soul
But then left me in the cold
No warning and without a reason
Placing yourself
In a world of miss-trust
Making Excuses
It's not you its us
How can something unspoken
Seem so loud
And I All that I'm hearing from you
Is White Noise (white noise)
White Noise (white noise)
All that I'm hearing from you
Is White Noise (white noise)
White Noise (white noise) The operator comes on the line
Says hurry up man
'cos you ain't got much time
White Noise
White Noise All that I'm hearing from you

Is White Noise

All that I'm hearing from you
Is White NoiseWhite Noise
White Noise, White Noise
All that I'm hearing from You
Is white noise (white noise)
white noise (white noise)
All that I'm hearing from You
White noise (white noise)
White noise (white noise)
All that I'm hearing from You
Is white noise (white noise)
White noise (white noise)
All that I'm hearing from You
