

Living Monstrosity

Death

Every day blows by in a world of corrupt addiction
With life comes pain withdrawals and deformation
Breaking the mould human appearance
Contorting bodies with chemical interference
The guilty one, Innocent she now cries
A life of hell, Better off to die
Born without eyes, Hands, and a half a brain
Being born addicted to cocaine
Living monstrosity
A freak for life they'll always be
Never knowing love or hate
Only pain the drug creates
Some say she's naive, She's a stupid bitch
Some say to forgive, Guilty she should die
The beginning of the end begins at birth
Breeding masses of twisted screaming flesh
An example we should make out of these creators of misfortune
A serious crime that should not be forgiven
The guilty one, Innocent she now cries
A life of hell, Better off to die
Born without eyes, Hands, And a half a brain
Being born addicted to cocaine
