Angels Fall Sometimes

Josh Turner

My chances weren't good, she was way out of my reach
How could she ever fall for some ol' boy like me
But here she lies asleep tonight in these arms of mine
And that goes to show angels fall sometimesShe's been here long enough to see that I'm no saint by now

Every mornin' I wakeup surprised to find her still around
The love that she gives to me could be no truer sign
Every now and then angels fall sometimesShe brings pieces of Heaven every day into my life
She's been my inspiration with her by my side
I'm not afraid to dream high
The love that she gives to me could be no truer sign
Every now and then angels fall sometimes
