

A Restless Heart and Obsidian Skies

Avantasia

Spirit: A genuine soul to dwell on baleful grounds

Glances wandering around

In the darkness of the world

Clouds have closed a ring around the sky

While the old ones hear the chimes

Through the darkness of the world

A genuine man will realize

He must fawn upon the times

While he shouldn't waste a word

Tender feet on stoney ground

See the young ones stray around

Through the darkness of the world

Aaron: Sacred heart will you usher me now

For I'll carry the lantern your way

For I'll bring us home

Spirit: Dark is the night, scarlet the moon

Sacred the light in the haze reflecting within

Aaron: Blazing the trail

Be still my restless heart

Obsidian's the sky

Inward you look as you halt

Spirit: Be still restless heart

Aaron: I'm on my way

Spirit: Under obsidian skies

Aaron: Wake to the sound of passing time

How could I quantify it

in the darkness of the world

Wake to the shadow of a dream

Nothing's what it seems

As you brave the darkness of the world

Spirit: Ghost lights and matter

You'll know what is real

Perception and fact: All the same

Truth's what you feel

Dark is the night, scarlet the moon

Sacred the light in the haze reflecting within

Aaron: Blazing the trail

Be still my restless heart

Obsidian's the sky

Inward you look as you halt

Spirit: Be still restless heart

Aaron: I'm on my way

Under obsidian skies
Spirit: And the wind and the rain that were shaking the pane move onward along with the clouds
And you're gazing in awe at the ghost lights above
as if stars cut their way through the shroud
On and on and on...
Spirit: Moon shines
Ghost lights
Oh they reach out for you
Blazing the trail under obsidian skies
Aaron: Dark is the night, scarlet the moon
Sacred the light in the haze reflecting within
Blazing the trail
Be still my restless heart
Spirit: Obsidian's the sky
Inward you look as you halt
Be still restless heart
Aaron: I'm on my way
Aaron: Dark is the night, scarlet the moon
Sacred the light in the haze reflecting within
Blazing the trail
Be still my restless heart
Spirit: Obsidian's the sky
Inward you look as you halt
Be still restless heart
Aaron: I'm on my way
