Punish the Monkey

Mark Knopfler

They're driving long nails into coffins
You've been having sleepless nights
You've gone as quiet as a church mouse
And checking on your rights
The boss has hung you out to dry
And it looks as though
Punish the monkey

And let the organ grinder goYou've been talking to a lawyer

Are you going to pretend

That you and your employer

Are still the best of friends

Somebody's gonna take the fall

There's your quid pro quo

Punish the monkey

Punish the monkey, yeah

Punish the monkey

And let the organ grinder go

Here comes a police man

He won't be side-tracked.

He's asking 'bout a smoking gun

He's after the badIt's a quiet life from here on in

You dropped your poisoned cup

The telephone is ringing

But you're not picking up

Times I've said are funky

And everybody knows

Punish the monkey

Punish the monkey, yeah

Punish the monkey

And let the organ grinder go

Punish the monkey

Punish the monkey, yeah

Punish the monkey

And let the organ grinder go
