Yuki Kajiura

I'm living with false hope, and my eyes just wanna see a ray of light I'm gonna find it in my fairy tale I hear, long forgotten broken toys tell me ancient lies of a boy I will sing of them in my fairy tale I was just a silent girl always dreaming of a little angel close to my reality sing, la la la ...the midnight sun hangs in the sky show me your smile, my little angel hear me, my fantasy sing la la la... through the night see, how my flights of imagination help me discover comprehension I can find it in my fairy tale I know, only a man can dare to dream nothing is really as it seems keep on telling, your own fairy tale now wake up, my silent girl take to flight, like a foolish angel singing me your fantasy sing, la la la...my midnight sun hangs in the sky the first and last wondrous invention show me the horizon sing, la la la...the summer is here, we kiss and fall in love but we've got to go, leaving nothing here I wanna share the memories of long forgotten love I was just a silent girl wishing for better understanding this is my melody
sing, la la la ...my midnight sun hangs in the sky
help me to tell my history with painted scenery sing, la la la ...in my fairy tale I'm living in my fairy tale ...
