

Shift the Night Away

Andre Matos

Ran away, in a fragment of despair
From a vicious threat
Such a damage to repair
Finding the truth, where all have already searched is the only way to fulfill a soul with lust
Lust for revenge in a world full of sins
Something we're building now
Never figured in dreams
Banal intentions mold a personality
Needless to mention
Madness and insanity
Lust for a chance in a world full of wins
What are we searching now
That belongs to our dreams?
Shift the night away (Shift the night away)
Nothing else could let us fall
We're building up our hopes
We're trusting them again
And suddenly a sign will be found
Make a stand, start all over
In your inner core
Some day what has caused your suffering
Will reset you back for more (will reset you back) Shift the night.....And suddenly a light has been found!
