

Mourning Doves

Mikky Ekko

Look at how far we've come
Look at this mess we've made
I'm still praying that the sun
Tears my body from the shade Tell me that we're too far gone
Tell me that we'll be okay
Swear to God I'd leave right now
If Heaven wasn't so far away But this is not an exercise
And nobody gets out alive
Stop. What if I, what if I stop?
Mourning doves, meet me in the morning
Love, what if I, what if I die before you wake?
Promise, I promise you can lean on me, lean on me
I can be your shoulder
There's still room for us to pull over
But we can't stop
I swear to morning, Love
We can be together like mourning doves Yeah, realize that no escape
Releases you from your mistakes
Oh, this is not a warning
But innocence is calling
And I sense that's it's a falling embrace Because this is not an exercise
And nobody gets out alive
Stop. What if I, what if I stop?
Mourning doves, meet me in the morning
Love, what if I, what if I die before you wake?
Promise, I promise you can lean on me, lean on me
I can be your shoulder
There's still room for us to pull over
But we can't stop
I swear to morning, Love
We can be together like mourning doves
We can be together like mourning doves Because we both know
We're running out of time
We're running out of time
Listen
Listen
Listen
Listen Mourning doves, meet me in the morning
Love, what if I, what if I die before you wake?
Promise, I promise you can lean on me, lean on me
I can be your shoulder
There's still room for us to pull over

But we can't stop
I swear to morning, love
We can be together like mourning doves
We can be together like mourning doves
