

Shrinking Violets

PHOX

If you wanna run
If you wanna run
I will, too.
But if you wanna stay
We can try and dodge all the things
That try to get in our way.
Get out, get out of our way. And they'll all say it's too soon.
Two shrinking violets at full bloom.
Hearts prolific in plain view,
As lovely large as craters on our moon.
Oh! On chamomile lavender days,
I'll find peace under care
of your razor-sharp ribcage,
Your lifted ribcage. And we can promenade
All along the bay.
Oh, neither ever afraid.
No, neither ever afraid. And they'll all say it's too soon.
Two shrinking violets at full bloom.
Hearts prolific in plain view,
As lovely large as craters on our moon. Oh, my heart.
And they'll all say it's too soon.
Two shrinking violets at full bloom.
Hearts prolific in plain view,
As lovely large as craters on our moon
