

The Native Tongue

Brant Bjork & The Bros

In a galaxy
far far away
in a neighborhood
on the edge of outer space
this world is gone now
its in every thing i am
you can hear the native tongue but you never understandbut you never understand the snake in a closet that took us to this place with a boy next door got board and dug his own grave a three headed dragon well it lived up the street and a girl on a chopper bike that would haunt me in my sleepits me and the girl next door ripping off this hold up and haunts me in my sleepI don't know what brought me there I don't know what it all means to feel the sweet breeze and be scared but there's still a thing inside me out there the singing in those trees the singing in those trees that bleed
In a galaxy
far far away
in a neighborhood
on the edge of outer space
this world is gone now
its in every thing i am
you can hear the native tongue
but you never understand but you never understand (x13 til fade out)

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>