

Stand (in the Light)

James Ingram

In a time when the words of the truth are not spoken
There's a war...There is hatred tearing us apart
And the sea reaches high to horizons now broken
And the world is so weary and fighting and lost
You must GO...Go on and STAND IN THE LIGHT
You will hear your soul singing
STAND IN THE LIGHT

Close your eyes and you'll see all that goodness can be Its LOVE real LOVE
It doesn't matter what they say
The sun rise again today

You must hurry and stand In a time when the seasons of life are so shaken
And the pain of the world just keeps spinning around
And the eyes of a child speak of danger awakened
There is a hunger inside its beginning to push hope aside

You've got to
STAND IN THE LIGHT
Feel your heart beat so clearly
STAND IN THE LIGHT

Where you know that the voices will hold you so tight
All through the night

You can send your fears away
Faith and Hope are here to stay
When you STAND IN THE LIGHT
We all ask the questions

What, Where, When, and Why
You must believe inside your heart
The answers lie
Why, don't you

Reach for the hands of a mother who's fallen?
Will you carry the load of your brother who's bound?
If you give of yourself you'll know joy and not sorrow
And the world will remember why LOVE is the way we must go

Come on and
STAND IN THE LIGHT
You will hear your soul singing
STAND IN THE LIGHT
You will hear your soul singing
STAND IN THE LIGHT

Close your eyes he will touch you and hold you so tight
And make you right

It doesn't matter what you've done
Go to the Father and the Son

You must hurry and stand
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>