Last Night Again (feat. Kenny Chesney)

Uncle Kracker

The days seem so familiar
There's something about the evenings
Even though they change every now and thenWell, I can be myself here
And I can free myself here un't believe it's last night again! see things go down. I hear the talk of the to

I can't believe it's last night againI see things go down, I hear the talk of the town Like an echo in my ear

If you should look for me, I'll be right hereI can leave myself here

Or I could use some help here

I can't believe it's last night againIt's a lonesome sound when this bar shuts down

So I guess I'll have one more

Nothin' out there I ain't seen before

I can leave myself here

I could use some help here

I can't believe it's last night again

I can't believe it's last night again

I can't believe it's last night again

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/