

Night Will Come

Will Stratton

I wake up every day
To shed my dreams and go away
"I have promises to keep
And miles to go before I sleep" again
Soon yeah night will come
And we'll run right through those lonely streets
Soon yeah right will be
'Til there's no one left to see
Despite their claims I'm well aware
Of how much you seem to care
'Bout little things like compromise
Whispered carefully while you pry
So I won't try it 'til it gets dark again
I'll just sit back and watch the webs you spin
Yeah we'll fool each other tonight
And it won't be out of spite anymore
Soon yeah night will come
And we'll run right through those lonely streets
