

You'll Be OK (feat. Annabel)

Gareth Emery

I was made to live this life
And live is what I've done
Found a warmth throughout the night
Saw hope where there was none
But I know the light could fade from my eyes
My plane could fall from the sky
The world could tell me, this is my time
I count my blessings every day
Had more than I deserve
Sing this song when I am gone
I'll be in every word
But I know the light could fade from my eyes
My plane could fall from the sky
The world could tell me, this is my time
And if I should die here tonight
Darling, know that you saved my life
Felt your love every day
Not a thing I would change
And I know you'll be OK
And I know you'll be OK
And I know you'll be OK
(But I know the light could fade from my eyes
My plane could fall from the sky
The world could tell me, this is my time)
And if I should die here tonight
Darling, know that you saved my life
Felt your love every day
Not a thing I would change
And I know you'll be OK
