Someone Else

Rezz & Grabbitz

I wake up in the bed you made
The one where you're supposed to lay with me
I smell you on the pillowcaseBut don't see your face, and that's okay with me
I never thought I'd see the day
I'd see you as somebody I could hate

I guess that's just the price I pay

For the blood-red flags that I walked past every dayWho are you when I'm not looking?

Despite those eyes that hooked me

When I'm not looking, you are someone else

Someone else

SomeoneWho are you when I'm not looking?

I doubt you even know yourself

Despite those lies that took me

When I'm not looking, you are someone elseHey

Is it me, did I fly you away?

Am I wrong?

Are you not who I say?

If I call, which one of you will answer anyway? Who are you when I'm not looking?

Despite those eyes that hooked me

When I'm not looking, you are someone else

Who are you when I'm not looking?

I doubt you even know yourself

Despite those lies that took me

When I'm not looking, you are someone elseSomeone

When I'm not looking, you are someone else

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/