

Hold Your Breath

Hybrid

HOLD YOUR BREATH

You don't realise that I know the truth,
You've been hiding but now I've got the proof,
I've spent too long turning a blind eye,
But not it shows that all you wanted was an easy life,
I'm sick and tired of doing all I could,
You said you'd be there through the bad times and the good
But I never see that side, and baby I know why
'Cause all you wanted was a real good time

I'm standing up, to settle this for good
You've spent too long not doin' the things you should
I'm here to let you know, I'm telling you where and when
It's time for you to go, so hold your breath and count to ten

Wowwow, you got careless, you let things slide
You're leaving evidence for me to find
Do you think I'm weak? Do you think I'm blind?
I'm here to tell you that I'm leaving you, I'm leaving you behind

I'm standing up, to settle this for good
You've spent too long not doin' the things you should
I'm here to let you know, I'm telling you where and when
It's time for you to go, so hold your breath and (count to ten)

[REP]

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>