

Fine

Mike Shinoda

Tell all the children to lock those doors
I've seen the smoke in the sky before
Gotta be up on my feet when the morning comes 'Cause this fight we can't ignore
I feel a chill building up inside
Seeing the sweat filling up my eyes
Tell every friend, enemy and flesh and blood
To send out the battle cry Fingers stretching out from nowhere
Reaching for my throat
They're hungry for my skin
Teeth wide smiling that they found me
Circling around me
Slowly closing in while you say Everything is gonna be fine
Everything is gonna be fine, fine, fine
Fingers stretching out from nowhere
Reaching for my throat
They're hungry for my skin, my skin
Teeth wide smiling that they found me
Circling around me
Slowly closing in, and you say Tell all the children to lock those doors
I've seen the smoke in the sky before
Gotta be up on my feet when the morning comes
This life we can't ignore
I feel a chill building up inside
Seeing the sweat filling up my eyes
Tell every friend, enemy and flesh and blood
To send out the battle cry Everything is gonna be fine, fine
Everything is gonna be fine, fine, fine Fine, fine, fine, fine, fine, fine, fine, fine
Everything will be just fine
Everything will be just fine
Everything will be just fine
Everything will be just fine Tell all the children to lock those doors
I've seen the smoke in the sky before
Gotta be up on my feet when the morning comes
This life we can't ignore
I feel a chill building up inside
Seeing the sweat filling up my eyes
Tell every friend, enemy and flesh and blood
To send out the battle cry Everything will be just fine
Everything will be just fine
