You Said Something

PJ Harvey

On a rooftop in brooklyn At one in the morning Watching the lights flash In manhattan I see five bridges The empire state building And you said something That I've never forgotten We lean against railings Describing the colours And the smells of our homelands Acting like lovers How did we get here? To this point of living? I held my breath And you said something And I'm doing nothing wrong Riding in your car The radio playing We sing up to the eighth floor A rooftop, manhattan At one in the morning And you said something That I've never forgotten You said something You said something You said something That was really important
