The Vaccines

I wake up in the morning with the evening in my eye
And by the time I get there, it becomes apparent why
All the voices singing to me, like some sort of choir
That you can't fight fire with the feeling of desire
So I become a bubble-bath for my sociopath
With the God-given right of the socialite
She said she only thinks of love like a long weekend
But she might jump in if I show her to the deep end
Yeah
And it makes my head feel like a nightclub
It makes my head feel like a nightclub
It makes my head feel like a nightclub
It makes my head
She says that if I wanted romance I could find it in a path
But if I wanna face the music then I only have to ask
She sees me when I notice who's sleeping around the fire
And there ain't no feeling like the feeling of desire
Yeah
And it makes my head feel like a nightclub
It makes my head feel like a nightclub
It makes my head feel like a nightclub
It makes my head
And it makes my head feel like a nightclub
It makes my head feel like a nightclub
It makes my head feel like a nightclub
To make me for the runnin' toward the morning after
It makes my head
