

Little Lies

Dave Barnes

everything is beautiful, cotton fields
the open road.
the radio plays a song we both know we don't sing along. la la la la la la these little lies la la la la la la these little lies
la la la la la la these little lies la la la la la la these little lies words can be daffodils or a fire in an open field I'm sittin here in the ash she's stupid world I can take bad la la la la la la these little lies
la la la la la la these little lies
la la la la la la these little lies
la la la la la la these little lies there's a devil on my shoulder baby oohooh
and i believe too many things he says yeah yeah yeah
I'm fighting these fears as i find them true and I'm sorry for hurting you
la la la la la la these little lies
la la la la la la these little lies
la la la la la la these little lies
la la la la la la these little lies
la la la la la la these little lies
la la la la la la these little lies
la la la la la la these little lies
la la la la la la these little lies...

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>