

Spiders

Space

In twenty years from now, I want to be nowhere
I live life day by day, just sitting in the same chair
If it wasn't for you, I'd have taken root
You gave me a brand new meaning, an extra season
And all of this from a girl who's
Scared of the spiders, and she's scared of the dark
She's scared of the bogeymen in the park
But if anybody comes near me
I know she'll cut their balls off
They wrote a book about her, it's taken the place of the Holy Bible
I'd send her to the stars, but the universe couldn't handle that ego
If it wasn't for you, I'd have taken root
You gave me a brand-new meaning, an extra season
And all of this from a girl who's
Scared of the spiders, and she's scared of the dark
She's scared of the bogeymen in the park
But if anybody comes near me
I know she'll cut their balls off
Scared of the spiders, and she's scared of the dark
She's scared of the bogeymen in the park
But if anybody comes near me
I know she'll cut their
If anybody comes near me
I know she'll cut their
If anybody comes near me
I know she'll cut their balls off
