

At All (feat. Veronika Redd)

Ark Patrol

Stubborn in the bones you tell your mother Siphon all the life inside away Take it all to bedtime with another There ain't no better place than yesterday I don't wanna show you where the fun is The markets only good for one more try Holding to the backdrift of your money
The winter of the words can't stay alive Streets or guns inside the hands of all your birds and Tyranny is often found within your words
Do you want me, do you want me here at all I'm bound to notice when your back's against the wall
You
Stutter in your sleep
Your laughin' while you weep
Will make us all regret the weekend
You
Wallow in the mud
And revel in your blood You're bringing down the worldwide standards Focus on the capture and retrieval Of everything you once knew to be yours
Stop and reassure yourself of evil
And struggle to believe you're at my door Knock until the planets close their eyelids Wait until the nighttime stars arise
You can see your headspace is divided And though you've got the tears
The attitude still comes as a surprise Streets or guns inside the hands of all your birds
and Tyranny is often found within your words
Do you want me, do you want me here at all I'm bound to notice when your back's against the wall You Stutter in your sleep
Your laughter when you weep
Will make us all regret
the weekend
You
Wallow in the mud
And revel in your blood Bringing down the worldwide standards You You call yourself a freak I know it all looks bleak but you surround me with the passion of the pure You Ya really can't decide You multiply divide Subtract and add it back You haven't moved at all She's always shining 'cause it's always night You're always dancing and the song's so right Well, do you want me, do you want me here at all

It seems to me you've got your back against the wall And It all goes back to that moment when you looked her in the eyes and it keeps on showing the same thing but you don't apologize Well you know that she's your home now and you're caught inside her snare With the noose knotted around your neck and your hands up in her hair Do you want me, do you want me here at all I'm bound to notice when your back's against the wall
